The City of Salem escaped damage from a twister and severe rain-storm which broke around 6:45 p. m. Wednesday out of the north-west and swept in a southeasterly direction across the county.

Patmos, a little community lying about eight miles northwest of Salem, felt the full force of the storm. Residents and motorists in that vicinity at that time, described the twister as extending hundreds of feet into the air, with "funnels" at both ends.

The swirling winds narrowly missed two houses at one edge of the community and then struck the home of Homer French, smashing in windows, tearing the chimney from the roof, ripping away boards from the house and sending rain in on the furniture. Trees in the yard were uprooted.

Luckily, no one was injured. Between 25 and 40 trees in the apple orchard owned by John Frantz were felled as the twister continued toward the southeast.

Patmos residents, alarmed at the sight of the approaching funnel, said the swirling winds covered an area of about 150 feet in width. Electric and telephone communication was reported interrupted.

Excluding the rain today, officials at the disposal plant recorded a rainfall here of 1.52 inches.

Lightning flashed through the sky in vivid color during the gale, and as the storm passed across the county—a bolt of lightning struck and set fire to a barn at the farm of Demosie Smith at Cream Ridge, just south of Elkton. This occurred about 8 o'clock.

The barn burned to the ground at a loss estimated at $2,500. Mr. Smith and farmhands succeeded, however, in leading livestock, including horses and cows, from the structure. Machinery in the barn was saved. A corn crib nearby was destroyed.

Lightning struck several houses at Lisbon during the storm, knocking the chimney loose at the dwelling owned by Clarence Ball, and also at a house owned by Frank McCaughy, just south of Lisbon.

SIX HIGH SCHOOL
YOUTHS HONORED

Win Essay, Short Story
Events In Brooks
Literary Contest

Cash prizes will be awarded 22 High school students, winners in the annual Brooks literary contest, at final judging at an assembly for all High school pupils this afternoon.

T. C. Bond of Niles, a director of the National Forensic league, and debate instructor at Niles High school, will act as judge. Prizes, set aside by a fund left by the late Atty. Charles T. Brooks, will be: First, $6.50; second, $4, and third, $2.

Winners already have been chosen in two events of the contest—the essays and the short stories. Principal Harold Williams revealed today. The selections were made by a group of teachers from East Palestine High school.

Winners in the essay contest and their titles are:

First, Jean McCarthy, Senior, on "In a World of Sit-Down Strikes"; second, Marjorie Kniseley, Sophomore, on "Beauty Parlois"; and third, Bernice Balsey, a Sophomore, on "It's a Dog's Life."

The short story winners:

First, Virginia Hurray, a Junior, "Things Might Have Been Different"; second, Theresa M. Hoff, a Sophomore, "Death Dance"; and third, John Evans, a Sophomore, "For Science Sake."

The competitors in the two other classifications of the contest, poems and orations, will deliver their subjects orally at the assembly today.

Rev. M. B. Lindberg
Continues Lectures

The fourth in a series of illustrated lectures on the theme, "World Conditions in the Light of Bible Prophecy," will be given at the First Friends church tonight by Rev. Milton B. Lindberg of the Biblical Research society. The subject of Rev. Lindberg's message tonight is "When Will Jerusalem Be the Capital of the World?"

The Baptist church discontinued its mid-week service last night to take part in the service at the Friends church at which Rev. Lindberg spoke on the topic. "Regathering of Israel in Palestine and Russia for the Greatest Conflict in History." The series will end tomorrow night.

Rev. Lindberg has seen four years of service as a missionary in the Holy Land and his lectures are of interdenominational nature. His address tonight will start at 7:30. Admission is free, but a free-will offering will be taken.

Rules On Banks

COLUMBUS, May 27. — Stockholders of closed banks and building and loan associations, a ruling by Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy said today, are liable for a 100 per cent assessment on their holdings. A constitutional amendment abolishing the double indemnity provision was approved by voters last November but Duffy said it is not retroactive.

Mayor James Secombe
Issues Call for Meet-

BULLETIN
(By Associated Press)

CANTON, May 27.—A meeting scheduled at the city auditorium today to determine whether employees of the Republic Steel corporation plant "shall strike or work" was called off unexpectedly to prevent city officials said, what threatened to be a riot between CIO members and workers opposed to the strike.

Mayor James Secombe said the meeting was cancelled to "preserve peace and prevent a riot."

CANTON, May 27 — A shotgun charge fired, the victim said, "from ambush" felled here today the first major casualty in the steel workers' organizing committee strike against three of the nation's largest steel companies.

Police Sergeant John McDonald filed a charge of shooting with intent to wound against Frank Kurchov, 29, whom the officer described as a Republic Steel corporation guard at the strike-closed Berger Manufacturing Co. plant.

Foreman Wounded.
Franklin P. Manly, 32, Berger company foreman, was wounded by pellets in both hands and both thighs as he fled, he said, from strike pickets who pursued him onto company property.

McDonald said Manly had penetrated the picket ranks two blocks from the plant but was sighted by workers as he reached an entrance.

Pleading innocent, Kurchov was held under $300 bond for a hearing the week of June 4 at his arraignment.

Hospital attendants quoted Manly as saying he was shot from "ambush." The guard, McDonald said, claimed he fired in front of Manly as the latter fled from a mob.

Strikers asserted only three pickets chased the non-striking foreman.

The incident was the only flareup on the Canton-Massillon strike front, established 24 hours prior to the authorized SWOC walkout last night against Republic, Inland Steel Corp. and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.

A steel workers' union local here voted a strike Tuesday night in what Frank A. Hardesty, SWOC sub-regional director, termed a spontaneous rebellion against discrimination in Republic plants.

The Massillon strike was called, a spokesman said, on Hardesty's orders.

Alloy Still Operating

The dispute closed five of six Canton Republic units and two at Massillon, affecting approximately 4,700 Canton workers and 4,100 at Massillon. The sixth Canton plant—the alloy division—continued to operate. A Republic spokesman said 2,000 men were in this mill and would continue to work.

Hardesty announced union men would not participate in a meeting called for today by Mayor James Secombe to determine whether the employees shall strike or work. Secombe said the workers would assemble in the city auditorium.

"It's a company controlled election and one the union wants no part of," declared Hardesty.

China Stockholders
To Share Dividend

SEBRING, May 27. — Stockholders of Royal China, Inc., will receive a $17,500 interim dividend distributed in the form of stock.

The distribution to stockholders will be payable July 15 to stock of record July 5. Net proceeds of the stock issuance are to be used to retire $29,000 principal amount first mortgage bonds and $40,000 notes, and to provide additional working capital.

Royal China's sales during the first four months of the year totaled $330,639, an increase of 23 per cent over the 1936 period.

Continue Services

Special services will be held each evening during the remainder of the week at the Winona Friends church, with Rev. Frank Reichenbach, Fort Wayne, Ind., evangelist, in charge.

Sebring Minister
Will Speak Monday
At N. Georgetown

NORTH GEORGETOWN, May 27 —Rev. James Gillespie, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Sebring, will deliver the Memorial day address Monday afternoon, May 31, in the Lutheran church.

Prior to the program in the church, a parade will be held with the procession forming on Main st at 1 p. m., and then moving to the cemetery. Rev. O. C. Kramer, pastor of the Lutheran church, will be in charge of brief services at the cemetery. Children will place flags and flowers on a mound in memory of soldiers who lie in unknown graves.

In addition to the address of Rev. Gillespie at the church, Miss Gertrude Oesch will give Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Special music will be furnished by the Mountz sisters.

The services here will honor the memory of soldiers in all wars in which United States has participated except Mexican and Spanish-American wars. Twenty-nine veterans of the Civil war one of the War of 1812, two of the World war, one of the standing army and one of the navy are buried in the "cemetery on the hill." Two veterans are buried in the old cemetery a half mile east of here.

In addition to these graves, the committee will also place flags and red geraniums on the graves of soldiers buried in cemeteries at Reading and East Beech.

(By Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN.—More than 70,000 workers idle in five lake states as CIO effects a strike against three independent steel companies for their refusal to sign bargaining contracts. Union claims "100 per cent tieup" of Mahoning valley; companies say some still at work.

PITTSBURGH.—Philip Murray, steel union president, charges "shoot to kill" orders issued by Republic Steel Corp., citing wounding of Canton, O. foreman; seeks conference with company chairman.

CHICAGO.—Two Republic plants remain in operation; police, estimating 900 at work, accused by union of "conspiracy" with steel officials.

BUFFALO.—Union declares two-thirds of workers idle in area but Republic says all but a few are working.

YOUNGSTOWN, May 27 — The Committee for Industrial Organization enforced a strike of more than 70,000 workers in steel plants of five lake states today, but moved toward peace by requesting a conference with the head of Republic.

Swollen Glands And Jupe
Pluvius Halt Mibs Finals

Tommy Leslie of Reilly Has the Glands; Pluvius, In Person, Supplies Gobs of Rain

Old "Jupe Pluvius" and a case of swollen glands conspired today to force a postponement of the city marble tournament finals, scheduled this afternoon on the running track at Reilly stadium.

Old "Jupe," a jinx to all outdoor events, couldn't seem to let the tournament be completed without his having some to say. So, he dropped around again this afternoon to force postponement of the finals until tomorrow at 4 p. m.

The swollen glands, which for a time were feared to be mumps, made their appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leslie on South Lincoln ave., preventing their son, Tommy, of Reilly school from playing today.

Tommy came down with swollen glands last Saturday, but he told The News marble editor, who stopped by his home today, that he'd be all right for play tomorrow. Tommy has been all set for more than two weeks to match his skill against six other school winners and if those pesky mumps had got hold of him, he'd have been rightfully deserving of the title of tough luck champion of The News tournament.

Fortunate it was for Tommy that it rained today. For if it hadn't been for Jupe Pluvius' presence, the finals would have had to go on without him. In the event that Tommy is unable to play tomorrow, his place in the championship matches will be taken by Bill Surdeman, 12, of sixth grade, who was runner-up for the Reilly school title.

The finals were postponed until tomorrow when J. M. (Joe) Kelley, manager of the Memorial building, who has been in charge of the tournament during its one-month run, made an examination of Reilly stadium's running track and found it too soggy to afford good playing conditions.

With the exception of Leslie, all of the school champions were set to meet in the finals today. These mibs stars—Bob Pasco of Columbia school, Felix Antonio of St. Paul's, Frederick Stamp of Junior High, Wilmer Stanley of McKinley, John Hart of Fourth st., and George Drakulich of Prospect—will now have one more day of practice before battling for the city championship.

Pickets Ring Ohio Steel Plants

Sticks and Stones Arm Pickets at Republic Plant in Massillon

Strike of Republic steel workers was called when the company, second largest independent producer, refused to sign an agreement with the C. I. O. steel union. Charging that the mills "are loaded with guns," Philip Murray of Pittsburgh, head of the Steel Workers' Organizing committee permitted his pickets to arm with clubs and rocks as they concentrated at the gate.

SALEM CAMERA CLUB
Will Hold Amateur
Photo Competition

An amateur photography contest, open to any resident of Salem, young or old, was announced today by members of the Quaker City Camera club.

The contest is being held as a means of increasing the membership of the camera club, and at the same time attempting to stimulate amateur photography as a hobby.

Rules of the contest may be obtained at local drug stores and photographers' studios. The contest is open from midnight, May 29, to midnight, July 10, and the pictures submitted must have been taken after March 21, 1937, and not later than July 9.

Photographs offered in the contest will be judged by members of the Quaker City Camera club and all prize winners will have their entrants submitted to other exhibits for national and international competition, it is announced.

The winning snapshots later will be exhibited at the public library.

The following types of prints will be considered for competition in the contest: Candid, portrait, landscape and farm, local color, sports, outdoor life and travel.

RELIEF PLANS

Ward Councilmen Report Registration of 26 Clients

The city's four ward councilmen, George Lewis, Paul Myers, Emmor H. Taylor and C. F. Zimmerman, at a special meeting in city hall Wednesday night, "took under consideration" the problem of caring for 26 relief clients who registered with the city on Tuesday.

The registration of the 26 persons followed a warning by city officials that "chiseling" on relief would not be tolerated. Before the registration took place it was predicted the city would have to care for about 40 relief clients. The drop is believed a result of the warning and the requirement of all indigents to sign an affidavit as to their eligibility to receive relief.

A definite program of handling the local relief situation will be outlined at the regular meeting of council next Tuesday night, the ward councilmen announced after their session last night.

Emergency food orders have been issued to 17 families within the past week by Mayor George Harroff. Further orders will not be issued until after the first of the month, however, the mayor said today.

Child Is Injured
In Auto Accident

Betty Louise Whaley, six, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Whaley of 541 South Broadway, suffered cuts about the face, neck and shoulders, when she ran into the street on South Ellsworth ave., near the Mullins office at 7:53 p. m. Wednesday and was hit by an automobile driven by Mary Herbert of 1919 Newgarden ave.

Patrolman George Reash and Paul Ormsby took the child to the Central Clinic. The machine was traveling south on Ellsworth.

STUDENTS PLAN
VARIED EVENTS

Commencement Scheduled
Thursday Evening,
June 10

Six outstanding scholastic events are scheduled for Seniors at Salem High school before the close of the public schools, June 11.

Although the commencement exercises Thursday evening, June 10, are uppermost in the minds of the Seniors, they also are looking forward to the Junior-Senior prom, June 4, and the Senior farewell party, June 8.

Baccalaureate Rites Planned

The baccalaureate service Sunday evening, June 6, will feature an address by Rev. Charles F. Bailey, pastor of the First Friends church, on "Putting Life's Puzzle Together."

Baccalaureate exercises for approximately 27 boys and girls who are members of St. Paul's parish, will be held on the same evening, June 6, at St. Paul's church. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Fr. M. J. Casey, pastor.

The High school band, directed by C. M. Brautigam, will present its final concert of the school term next Tuesday evening in the High school auditorium. The concert is free to the public.

Recognition day for the High school students will be held Wednesday, June 9, in the High school auditorium.

The list of graduates at the High school, expected to be slightly smaller in comparison with previous classes, probably will be approved by the board of education at a June meeting June 7.

Seniors Get Pointers

High School Principal Harold Williams announced today that state psychological tests will be given to members of the Sophomore class Friday morning. Early next week, Holland Cameron, Trades Class instructor, will discuss with Senior boys the possibilities of their entrance into Salem industries.

"The guidance clinic" at the High school for Seniors and interested and underclassmen ends this week, talks having been made by Dr. R. T. Holzbach on "Medicine"; Supt. E. S. Kerr on "Teaching," and State Senator R. John Taylor on "Advertising."

Need $6,721.17 Today to Put Drive "Over the Top"

Raising $11,078.83 during their first day's work, Community Chest campaigners, well over the half-way mark, today faced the task of bringing in $6,721.17 to put the 1937 drive over the top.

Reports on the final day's work will be submitted at a final meeting of team workers and others at 6:30 this evening at the Memorial building.

Submit Reports

Out of the $11,078.83 raised yesterday, approximately $8,400 was turned in by the executive and shop committees and this sum was divided equally among the seven campaign teams.

As a result, their reports for the first day's campaigning, submitted last night, were as follows:

No. 1, Loder Caplan	1,557.50
No. 2, Byron Maxson	1,267.50
No. 3, David Bevan	1,347.35
No. 4, J. H. Wilson	1,472.25
No. 5, Miss Ruth Hoch	1,552.15
No. 6, Mrs. Carl Willman	1,487.75
No. 7, Mrs. Robert Minor	1,383.50

Total	$11,078.83

Emphasize Chest Value

Brief talks were given at last night's meeting by Supt. Earl S. Kerr and Ralph W. Hawley, who pointed out that it would be impossible to place too much emphasis on the value to the city of the seven institutions and organizations participating in the fund.

General Chairman Ed Dawson, Executive Committee Chairman Andrew MacLeod and Manager L. P. Metzger outlined the job that lay before the workers today.

The army of team workers, who give their time and energy without compensation, have enjoyed unusually good musical programs at both the Tuesday and Wednesday meetings, the musicians also contributing their services gratis.

Wednesday night, a group from the Community band provided music and Miss Martha Bailer of the city hospital staff, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Berry, sang. James Ritchie, Scottish bagpiper, provided something different in the way of musical entertainment.

Last night, Mrs. Ellis Satterthwaite, acting public school music supervisor, presented an orchestra composed of students. In the orchestra were Robert Boughton, Gusta Conja, Eleanor Eberwein, Dolores Jones, Nick Chitza, Marjorie Layden and Betty Jean Gibbons.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, May 27—There is one game for which Neysa McMen, who sponsors most of the new ones, has no zest. It was thought up by her husband John Baragwanath who usually has as an ally for its perpetration Arthur Samuels. It is called quaintly "Fun With Food."

And may only be played at the dinner table where such gooey viands as roast beef with brown gravy and ice cream with hot chocolate sauce are served. Sometimes a meringue-capped pudding may be employed. At any rate the chief figure in the game must be a rather pompous person.

Baragwanath and Samuels pilot the conversation into higher levels—speaking learnedly on high blown topics. One, say Baragwanath, will in the heat of conversation allow the back of his hand to dip in the gravy and then unconsciously, talking all the while, rub his hand across his nose. His face is soon a smear.

In the meanwhile Samuels has not been idle. He appears to be absorbed in the talk and is contemplatively, softly rubbing his hand over his cheeks, a hand dripping with ice cream and chocolate sauce. By this time the pompous onlooker is in a bewildering dither and Miss McMen has run shrieking from the room.

The Candid Camera Craze is getting out of bounds. The parks are filled with them sneaking up on young lovers for a shot and anyone of the slightest headline importance visiting a night club is fairly besieged. I am told that many of the cameras haven't even films. Carrying them gives the inquisitive, snooping type more latitude in sticking his nose where it does not belong. Before burlesque got its deadening biff, the front rows were sprinkled with the close-up fiends, although the management usually gave them the bum's rush when discovered. The Candid Camerists are far more brazen than the Autograph Pest and their scavenging is usually for nudity or anything that might be turned into the suggestive.

Peggy Joyce's crack-up in the sledge accident at St. Moritz which cost the life of her fiancé was far more serious than most people imagined. After being in a Swiss hospital many weeks she went to London and hobbled about her room on crutches for many more. It was her first interlude in night out in 20 years. For Peggy has during her headlined career been a gay creature of the night scene, never failing to visit from one to five clubs an evening. She has rarely turned in before dawn and has breakfasted regularly at 2 in the afternoon. From all accounts Peggy is going to lead a cloistered life from hence. She is putting her private home on the market and is reported to have made arrangement with European dealers to sell her jewels, valued at several hundred thousand. No one, save her family, knows Peggy's age exactly, but a checkup of her career is convincing that she is at least edging the early 40's. And no one was Broadway's No. 1 Glamour Girl so long.

Speaking of eclipses, the writing world seems to discuss Henry L. Mencken almost completely in the past tense. As though his rapier had turned to rust and his days were spent on a Baltimore porch, rocking. While this is all exaggeration, the truth is that the once fiery filibusterer has grown suddenly passive. Many say that the re-election of Roosevelt, whom he fought so bitterly, soured Mencken on the whole business of public utterance. He discusses affairs now only with intimates in the privacy of his home and over a glass of his favorite brew.

Raymond B. Deane, of the Cole Brothers Circus, writes in something that touches off a pompadour effect. It reads: "Why not get together with your friend Clyde Beatty and be the first columnist to enter the arena with him and his 40 lions and tigers?"

Thingumbobs: W. W. Hawkins has joined the cigarette quitters . . . P. P. A. is free lance . . . Jack Pearl is a student of medieval history . . . Purser Villier of the Normandie speaks nine languages fluently . . . Arthur Murray, the dance man, has made the largest of all fortunes out of the art of Terspsichore . . . E. B. White, who writes much of the whimsy for The New Yorker, has resigned to try life on a farm for a while.

I never go to a fire without thinking of the rebuff of my first reporting days in New York. With my police card jauntily in my hat I walked casually through the lines on West 28 street and was given a shove by a cop that unroofed my hat and clattered my teeth. Lifting myself up haughtily, I approached him and announced with much grandeur: "I happen to be a newspaperman." To which he replied: "Happen is the word, buddy."

COLITIS

AMONG OUR complicated and sensitive organs and structures the colon is one of the most important. This lower part of the large intestine is subject to irritation, infections and other disturbances.

Colitis, the medical name of an inflammation of the colon, is a common disorder. As its name indicates, it is an inflammation of the lower bowel.

The victim suffers from indigestion, constipation or diarrhea, loss of weight, pain or discomfort in the abdomen. As a rule the stools are watery, carrying large amounts of mucus. In severe cases the mucus may resemble shreds of membrane. In most cases blood and pus are present in the stools.

The inflammation may be so severe as to cause painful evacuation. Indeed, the sufferer usually complains of intense abdominal pain or cramps. Fever, chills and other signs that must not be overlooked.

There are many causes of colitis. It may be traced to chronic constipation or faulty diet, or it may be the end result of some chronic infection within the body. Sometimes it follows a parasitic infection, and is always present in cases of dysentery and other similar disorders.

Diet Should Be Simple
If you notice mucus shreds of blood in the stool consult with your doctor. Never neglect this condition. The symptoms may be due to colitis or they may be the first sign of some other disturbance. That is why you should visit the doctor.

If the disease is definitely diagnosed as colitis, follow the medical advice given. Bear in mind that each case presents its own problems. Because of this no definite form of treatment can be applied to this disease. As a rule, it is best to avoid mineral waters, as well as the excessive use of salt, pepper and other condiments. The diet should be simple and nutritious, consisting of foods that are easily digested.

It is a good plan to have the inflamed intestine well cleansed at periodic intervals. This is best accomplished by a daily hot or warm enema taken just before retiring. Never resort to the use of periodic cathartics or other powerful drugs.

Answers to Health Queries
Mrs. R. Q.—Please give me a list of food a chronic appendicitis patient can and cannot eat.

A.—The diet is of some value, but the only way danger is avoided is to have the appendix removed. The patient should remain under the care of a physician. He will advise you in detail.

Mrs. J. H. M. Q.—For the last six months when I eat red meat the following day I feel weak and have a swimming head. I also lose weight. I am 62 years old. What would you advise?

A.—My advice would be to consult your physician and undergo a complete examination.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 8 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Two Mount Union Instructors Resign

ALLIANCE, May 27.—Mount Union college's conservatory of music was troubled today by the resignation of Director Richard W.

Oppenheim and Dr. Louis Crowder and Evelyn Stahler, instructors in piano.

Oppenheim charged dissatisfaction over policy of the college administration toward the financial conduct of the conservatory as the reason for the concerted withdrawals.

Oppenheim has been associated with the conservatory 17 years and is director of the Alliance Symphony orchestra.

New Officers Are Elected By Methodist Church Circles

The quarterly birthday dinner for members of Circle 1 whose birthdays are in March, April or May was held Wednesday afternoon in the church with 24 members of the circle present.

Hogesses were Mrs. E. M. Bates, Mrs. Harvey Bates, Mrs. Ross Helman and Mrs. Burton Sutter. Devotional service was led by Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkbride.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. R. F. White; first vice president, Mrs. Ira Burson; second vice president, Mrs. W. A. Tetlow; secretary, Mrs. George Kleinkurt; treasurer, Mrs. L. H. Baldinger. New executives will assume office in June.

The meeting June 23 will be held at the home of Mrs. Sarah Prothro, 373 North Broadway.

Circle No. 2
Mrs. Adda Gilbert was named president of Circle 2 which met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Irving Megraill, East Third st.

Other officers are: Vice president, Mrs. Paul Holwick; treasurer, Mrs. Irving Megraill; secretary, Miss Clara Scott.

Mrs. Marie Apple was in charge of the program which included a number of readings, appropriate for Memorial day.

Mrs. C. A. Auman, who came to Salem a few months ago to make her home, was a guest of the circle.

On June 23 the group will meet with Mrs. Harry Kaufman on West State st.

Circle No. 3
Two guests were present when Mrs. W. H. Matthews entertained members of Circle 3 at her home on North Union ave. Wednesday. Mrs. Ralph McGhee was in charge of devotions. Mrs. Matthews, head of the nominating committee, announced new officers, who are: President, Mrs. McGhee; vice president, Mrs. F. A. Hoskin; secretary, Mrs. G. W. McKee; treasurer, Mrs. P. C. O'Neil.

Mrs. T. E. Miller was chairman of the program, a feature of which was an account of a recent trip to California given by Mrs. E. M. Peters. Mrs. H. J. Thompson and Mrs. Glenn Harding entertained with vocal duets and Mrs. Harding gave a vocal solo.

Circle No. 4
Circle 4 elected Mrs. E. P. Naron president, during a meeting yesterday at the church. Other officers include: Vice president, Mrs. H. R. Holloway; secretary, Mrs. Warren Everhart; treasurer, Mrs. William Stewart; flower secretary, Mrs. Edwin Smith.

Mrs. Everhart was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Nettie Calladine. Mrs. Henry Smith, leader of the devotional service, with Mrs. Earl Day and Mrs. D. E. McCleskey participating. The quarterly birthday party will be held June 23 at the home of Mrs. James McConner, Franklin rd.

Circle No. 5
New officers of Circle 5, elected at a meeting Wednesday at the church, are: President, Mrs. W. H. Kniseley; vice president, Mrs. Lida Gallagher; secretary, Mrs. Cora Smith; treasurer, Mrs. C. E. McCullough.

The program was omitted yesterday, members enjoying a social hour after the business meeting. Lunch was served.

The circle will meet again June 23.

Ladies! Some Items From Wallis Warfield's Trousseau

At left, a white tweed two-piece suit with four cross pockets. Second, a summer dress of white shantung with rounded applique of the same material. Third, an evening dress of deep blue-violet taffeta in the new short ankle length. Fourth, an afternoon dress in navy blue crepe marocain, the neckline draped and twisted, the skirt seamed and bias-cut. Fifth, a multi-colored surah blouse with draped bow effect at the neckline, and sixth, a beach suit of white toile, worn over shorts of the same material. The handkerchief and scarf are of blue silk, polka-dotted. These items from the trousseau of Wallis Warfield were created for her by the famous French designer, Mainboucher.

Just-A-Mere Club Entertained

PRESBYTERIANS TO ELECT HEAD

Dr. William H. Foulkes Is Seen as Church's Next Moderator

ed by the churches 276 presbyteries. The commissioners, half of them ministers and half laymen, represent approximately 2,000,000 communicants.

Praises Missionaries

Opening the assembly with a sermon, Dr. Master praised the achievements of Christian foreign missionaries as being "so amazing as to be almost incredible."

"Nowhere, save in their group, will you discover so many noble, unselfish, Christianlike men and women," he asserted.

While faced by numerous important problems, such as what stand the church will take on social issues, the assembly seems to be undisturbed by any major controversy such as that between the modernists and fundamentalists last year. A fundamentalist group broke away and formed the Presbyterian Church in America. The Presbyterian church, U. S. A., sued to prevent the use of the name and the litigation still is pending.

In a conference preceding the General Assembly sessions, which will continue through June 2, Dr. Charles J. Turk of Philadelphia declared that the church should be outspoken on social issues or risk loss of its positions in the contemporary scene.

In line with the remarks of Dr. Turk, who is general director of the department of social education and action, Presbyterian board of Christian education, the Presbytery of Philadelphia North entered the controversy over President Roosevelt's civil reorganization proposal.

Submits Resolution
In an overture or resolution, it asked the assembly to encourage protests "by every lawful means against the passage of any measure that may render the Supreme Court of the United States x x x subservient to the executive or legislative branches of the government."

The question of war, brought to the fore when the Presbyteries refused to take a sanction of it from their confession of faith, was enlivened by the Rev. Cameron P. Hall of Madison, Wis., who advocated that the federal Constitution be amended to permit declaration of war only by a national plebiscite.

Theater Attractions

Fredric March and Janet Gaynor in "A Star Is Born" which shows tonight through Saturday at the State.

"A Star Is Born", starring Janet Gaynor and Fredric March will be seen tonight, Friday and Saturday at the State.

The picture is outstanding in several ways. It marks the first picture for either star during recent months. It also demonstrates the splendid progress being made in the use of color on the screen. The story is a different type from those Miss Gaynor has played in before. Instead of the country girl roles which she has always had, Miss Gaynor is seen as the glamorous, beautiful movie actress with some of the loveliest gowns ever worn on the screen.

Janet Gaynor and Fredric March have written-to-order roles and have never turned in better performances. Janet emerges a lovely, new sophisticated personality—with a rare flair for wearing clothes—as Esther Blodgett, the little country girl who comes to Hollywood in search of stardom, faces the 100,000 to one odds as an extra, and soars overnight to fame.

Comedy For March

And March, as Norman Maine, the hard-drinking screen idol of the moment, who helps Janet get her first break, falls in love with her and marries her, has a grand role which offers him plenty of opportunities for the kind of comedy at which he excels.

The story depicts all the thrills and gaiety and heartbreak of a climb to fame in Hollywood. Adolphe Menjou is at his best as Oliver Niles, the producer, and May Robson is grand as the fiery old grandmother who urges Esther to go to Hollywood and realize her dream of movie fame.

Western at Grand

A western story, "The Lion's Den", with Tim McCoy, shows at the Grand Friday and Saturday.

Tonight's bill at the Grand features a mystery thriller and a comedy. Jane Darwell, Thomas Beck, Sally Blane, Sig Rumann and Joan Davis are seen in leading roles in the mystery, "The Great Hospital Mystery."

Joe E. Brown stars in "When's Your Birthday", playing a return engagement. Marian Marsh, Fred Keating and Edgar Kennedy are featured.

WASHINGTONVILLE

The Busy Bee society of the Methodist church was entertained on Friday evening in the home of Miss Myrtle Baker, who was assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Culler and Mrs. Coll. Following the regular business session contests were enjoyed with prizes won by Mrs. Albert Ritchie, Mrs. Walter Warner and Mrs. Louis Atkinson. Lunch was served. The meeting in June will be announced later.

Dorcas Society Meets

The Dorcas class of the Methodist Sunday school taught by Mrs. Walter Smith held its monthly class meeting on Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Marvin Fieldhouse. Other guests were Mrs. Harold Rohrer and Mrs. Herbert Hartley. The devotionals were in charge of the president, Mrs. Paul Wisler. Contests entertained with first honors won by Mrs. Russell Smith and Mrs. Ray Davis and second by Mrs. John King and Mrs. Paul Wisler. The hostess served lunch. The meeting in June will be held in the home of Mrs. Glenn Jackson.

Saturday Night Club

The Saturday Night club members were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Weikart at Leetonia. Cards were enjoyed with high honors won by Mr. and Mrs. Ivan

Davis, and second by Mrs. L. J. Davis and Ray Stouffer. The consolation gift went to Mrs. Ansel Senheiser. Lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Senheiser will be the next hosts.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Stouffer on Sunday. Mrs. Winifred Baker spent Sunday at Mill Creek park, attending the artists picnic sponsored by the Buckeye Art club of Youngstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade McGinnis of Youngstown were visitors on Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weikart.

Mrs. William Bell and Mrs. Laura Thorpe attended the district conference of the Methodist church held at East Liverpool last week.

The Loyal Neighbors club members were entertained in the home of Mrs. Fred Corl on Friday evening. The evening was spent socially with contests and games entertaining. Prizes were won by Mrs. Mary Smedley and Mrs. Richard Wilkinson. Mrs. Corl received the towel shower.

The hostess served lunch.

Dr. McQueen Here

Dr. M. Wayne McQueen will have charge of the services at the Methodist church on Sunday evening, June 13. The last quarterly conference will be held on Wednesday evening, June 23, when a report from the president of each group will be given. The finance committee will make a report on the financial condition and the minimum salary to be paid.

Visits Parents

Miss Mary McAndrew of New York is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McAndrew and family.

Visitors on Sunday and Monday in the home of Mrs. Charity Roller were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roller and family of Lisbon, and Mrs. L. A. Callahan of Youngstown.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brudery and family and Miss May Roller were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Herman.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Davis, Misses Clara and Helen Weikart were Sunday afternoon callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bowker at Niles.

Visit in Weikart Home

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donaldson of Wellsville were Wednesday callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Weikart.

Miss Ruth DeLauter of Youngstown spent Monday with her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Smedley.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Davis, daughter Ruth and Miss Clara Weikart spent Sunday evening with Mrs. Effie Gilbert in the home of Dr. Whitehead, at Youngstown.

Old Beaver Span's Life Lengthened

LISBON, May 27.—The pictureesque covered bridge spanning Beaver creek between Lisbon and Elkton will continue to delight motorists for a few weeks longer than anticipated.
The bridge, several times condemned as unsafe, was marked for destruction and replacement by the county engineering department several weeks ago. The commissioners advised for bids, stipulating Wednesday as the dead line. But no bids were received.
County Engineer Robert Wheatley believes the original estimate of $4,052.08 was too low to tempt contractors in view of a steadily increasing material cost. It will be necessary, he says, to either re-estimate the work or undertake it as a county project.

Cleveland Files $5,000 Damage Suit

LISBON, May 27.—Alex Radvan-sky of Cleveland filed suit for $5-000 damages Wednesday against E.
W. Hoffman of Wheeling, W. Va., as a result of a traffic accident near Lisbon June 8, 1935. John Kysto, Cleveland, driver of the car occupied by Radvansky, also is suing the defendant for $670, including $500 for personal injuries and $170 for car damages.
The petition alleges the defendant was responsible for an auto collision on Route 45 in which both plaintiffs were injured. The petitioners state Hoffman was driving at a high rate of speed and on the left side of the road when his car collided with the plaintiffs.
Radvansky and Kysto claim their injuries are of a permanent nature.
The former alleges he was completely incapacitated for six weeks.

Lisbon School To Award 74 Diplomas

LISBON, May 27.—A class of 74 graduates, together with their friends and relatives will hear Guy
M. Bingham, former superintendent of Lisbon schools, deliver the commencement address tonight at the Presbyterian church.
The exercises will mark the close of four years of work for 40 girls and 34 boys.
The class is not as large as last year's, lacking three members to reach the number receiving diplomas in 1936.
Miss Virginia Muntean is first honors student with Miss Nina Parry a close second. Fred George and Arlene Paterson have received grades for the four years of their High school terms which have won them honorable mention.
The exercises are the 67th in the annals of the school. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the High school orchestra.

A Rare Picture

Rarely indeed is a photographer permitted to approach close enough to the Emperor of Japan to secure a picture as excellent as this one, probably the best study ever made by a press photographer. The monarch is shown astride his white charger during a review of his troops at Tokyo.

Russia And Bible Prophecy Discussed At Friends Meeting

Conditions in Russia, the strength of its air forces and its five-year program in relation to Biblical prophecy were discussed by Prof.
Milton B. Lindberg, representative of the Biblical Research society, in one of a series of lectures Wednesday evening at the First Friends church.
The lectures are illustrated with pictures, some of them in colors.
Taken in the Holy Land by Prof.
Lindberg, when he was engaged in mission work there.
Prophecies of Ezekiel, recorded in chapters 38 and 39, formed the nucleus for the speaker's address.
"Air forces will play a large part in the warfare of the future. Therefore, God says of Gog (Russia):
'And thou shalt ascend, thou shalt come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy hordes, and many peoples with thee' Ezekiel. Compare this prediction of 2,500 years ago with a dispatch from Moscow of Sept. 16, 1935, which tells of a new method of warfare which is being developed in Russia. According to reports from Moscow air fields, 'parachutes observed the sky', dropping enmasse from great bombing,' he said.
"How significant is the fact that in its renewed five-year program Russia is preparing the largest army of all time, purposing to train sixty million men and women for military service.
"According to verse 15 the armies of Rosh shall not come alone, but 'many peoples with thee, Ial of them riding upon horses.' Russia has been buying horses and already has 70 per cent of the horseflesh of the world.
"The new Haifa harbor has become the chief seaport of Palestine.
Haifa is the gateway to the great plain Esdraelon, also known as Megiddo, famous for its many battles. The valley of Megiddo is therefore the natural gathering place for the armies which shall engage in the battle of Revelation 16:
14-16, to which the conflict of Ezekiel 38 and 39 is probably a sequel.
"Thus we see in our day the shaping of events which shall easily culminate in the greatest holocaust of slaughter in all history."
This was a union service with the Baptist church and Rev. A. C. Westphal, the pastor, presided. Harold Babb offered a vocal solo, with Mrs.
Babb at the piano. Rev. John Guy, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, sang a solo, playing his own accompaniment on the guitar.
The services are well attended.
There will be two more in the series, tonight and Friday night. They are preceded by a period of prayer which begins at 7.

Strike Continues

FREMONT, May 27.—Pickets continued on duty today at plants of the Henckel-Claus Cutlery Co., Schaff and Good Co., and the Flexible File Co. where some 450 employees went on strike Monday demanding wage increases of from 10 to 25 cents an hour.

rick's Catholic church, with Rev. T.
Marchant officiating.
Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Story Behind Suit

DAYTON, May 27.—It was an unusual story told by William Quinn of Sidney, in his suit for $5,200 on file in common pleas court today.
Quinn, seeking that amount in damages from the Union Paper Stock Co., and a like sum from the Duberstein Iron and Metal Co., alleged his wrought iron railroad bridge was stolen, cut up and hailed away as scrap. Quinn chased the metal firm carted the dismantled bridge from its location near Fort Laramie, in Shelby county.

STEEL STRIKERS ASK CONFERENCE

Walkout Cripples Mill Operations In Five
Lake States

Steel Corp., largest of three concerns affected.
Philip Murray, John L. Lewis' lieutenant in organizing the steel industry, charged Tom L. Girdler, Republic's chairman, "or your subordinates have issued orders to shoot to kill" but sought a meeting with Girdler to discuss Republic's refusal to meet the CIO demand for a bargaining contract.
Murray cited the shooting of a foreman in Canton, and said
"furthermore your (Girdler's) private mill policeman admits he was firing from ambush x x and was trying to shoot down our pickets."
The policeman was arraigned in a Canton court today and held for later hearing while the man shot was in a hospital.
Spokesmen for Republic in Cleveland said they had no immediate statement regarding Murray's telegram.
The strike, which went into effect late last night, crippled steel operations of the three affected companies in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York.

58 Are Graduated From Columbiana Junior Hi School

COLUMBIANA, May 27.—A class of 58 boys and girls graduated from Junior High school Tuesday evening in the Columbiana school auditorium. Two of the number, Mildred Cotton and Pearl Bailey were unable to be present, due to illness. Certificates were presented by Supt. C. B. Riggall, the pupils being presented to him by Miss Willie Carpenter, eighth grade teacher.
The American Legion awards were given to Wayne Brubaker and Edith Newell, chosen by their classmates and teachers as most outstanding in scholarship, honor, citizenship, etc. The presentation was made by Atty. C. G. McCormick.
Salem, who was introduced by Everett Rich, also of Salem, county commander of the American Legion. The awards were given and sponsored by Benjamin Firestone post, which gives similar honors to pupils of the Fairfield and New Springfield schools.
The members of the class are as follows: Pearl Bailey, Robert Barrow, Betty Bell, June Boals, Lu-

Tax Collections To Start July 1

LISBON, May 27.—June tax collections are expected to start about July 1, the county treasurer's office announced Wednesday.
Although the county commissioners are required to set the date, Treasurer George Boice has indicated his office will be unable to start collections prior to July. Fifteen days are generally allotted for collections, making July 15 the probable deadline.
Extensions, under the law, may be made by the commissioners who generally act on the treasurer's recommendation.

in New 1937 Road Tests

Using stock model Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth Cars, Canzol 4900 averaged 22<sup>8</sup>/<sub>10</sub> Miles Per Gallon for all three cars... that's bigger mileage, better performance, and greater economy than ever!

TWO REASONS WHY CANZOL 4900 GIVES BETTER MILEAGE

- 1 Every gallon of Canzol 4900 has 25% of Premium Canzol added... it's Ohio's biggest gasoline bargain.
  - 2 By actual test Canzol 4900 contained 4900 more power units per gallon than the best of the 9 leading regular-priced gasolines.
- Go places on less gas with Canzol 4900!

As Correspondents Await Windsor's Marriage

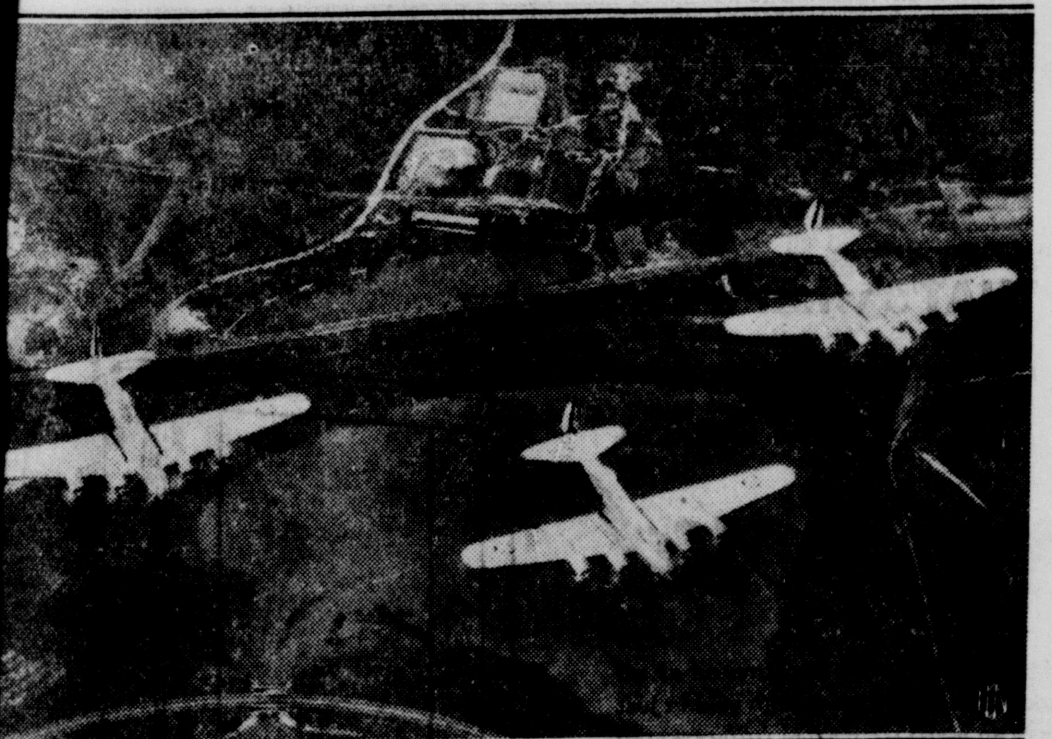

to the tremendous demand for space in Monts, France, by representatives of newspapers all over the world, the usual telegraph office has been supplemented by this press office, located in a village barn. These correspondents are shown sending out their stories on the world's greatest romance, which culminates in the marriage of the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield, his American sweetheart, June 3.

After the Coronation—Come the Cleaners

ing an American big city after a civic reception, is this scene in Parliament Square, London, after the coronation. Where millions fought for a place from which they could view the procession, the street-sweepers, with plenty of elbow room, go about their job.

Army's Flying Battleships Return Home

of the United States Army's four 15-ton Boeing 4-motored bombers are shown flying in formation over England when they returned from a ten-hour non-stop flight that took them over the metropolitan center of the east. The flying fortresses covered 1,855 miles, the first formation flight they have taken part in.

18,000-Mile Honeymoon

Bailey Sawyer, 32, and his bride, Dorata Flatow Sawyer, are on their 89-foot schooner Henrietta at Gloucester, Mass., for an 18,000-mile voyage to Melbourne, Australia. The voyage is to be the culmination of a romance on a previous trip from Melbourne. They plan to visit the floor of the sea near Australia, and are taking a crew of eight, mostly scientists, for the three-year trip.

North Pole Pilot

M. V. Vodopyanoff, (above) ace flyer, has added to his laurels by landing a Soviet plane at the North Pole. Vodopyanoff is chief pilot for the Dr. Otto J. Schmidt expedition which is charting an airline between Moscow and San Francisco across the North Pole.

KIWANIS HEARS VETERANS' AID

Charles Marton of Cleveland Is Leetonia Speaker

LEETONIA, May 27.—The Kiwanis club held its weekly meeting Tuesday evening at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The Priscilla club served the dinner.

Charles Marton of Cleveland, a representative of the veterans bureau of the American Legion, spoke on the work of the bureau. Robert Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Sullivan, gave an extemporaneous talk on "Safety on the Highway."

Next week the club will open a series of meetings at the Presbyterian church with members of the Columbiana club joining in an inter-club meeting.

Surprise Party

Twenty-two friends and relatives called surprise fashion at the home of Mrs. A. J. Spatholt Tuesday and held a "Housewarming." A covered dish dinner was served at noon, after which five tables of "500" were in play. Mrs. Raymond Baker and Mrs. J. A. Arnold were prize winners. Mrs. Spatholt was presented a shower of miscellaneous gifts from her guests. Out of town guests were from Columbiana and North Lima.

The Priscilla club of St. Paul's Lutheran church was entertained at the church parlors Tuesday evening with Mrs. H. M. Stambaugh as hostess.

Miss Margaret Brillhart entertained friends at her home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Lydia Weaver accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Frederick Nilson home to Rochester, N. Y., where she will visit for several weeks.

Field Day Planned At Canfield June 10

With June recognized as the ideal month for field days, one is planned for the Mahoning County Experiment Farm at Canfield Thursday afternoon, June 10. The program will center largely around meadows and pastures.

The bearing which these have on future erosion and conservation programs, as well as their present financial value in each individual farm scheme, has served to make farmers more meadow-minded and pasture-minded than ever before.

Considerable attention will be paid to the value of timothy and other grasses, particularly when grown with alfalfa. It is now known that immature grass hay has a high feeding value and that some live stock, particularly sheep and dairy cows, can be more economically kept when a considerable part of their feed is secured from good pasture and properly harvested hay.

Much of the disfavor shown timothy in the past came from the fact that it was cut when too mature. Most soils in eastern Ohio can be made to grow an alfalfa grass mixture whereas pure alfalfa often is a discouraging proposition.

HERE'S THE "LOW DOWN" ON TIRE PRICES!

THE CHEAPEST THING ON YOUR CAR IS THE BEST TIRES YOU CAN BUY!

Charted here are average maintenance costs obtained from fleet owners operating hundreds of cars on Goodyear Tires. Note that Goodyears cost only about one-fifth as much as gas—from one-quarter to one-half as much as other routine expenses.

If you are puzzled by tire classifications and prices, here's a fact that will set you straight: the cheapest thing on your car is the best tires you can buy!

The nation's largest fleet operators say that a full set of Goodyear Tires costs only ONE-FIFTH as much per 100 miles as gasoline!

Mileage is the answer. The longer, safer mileage that is built into every Goodyear Tire. The greater grip of Goodyear center traction...the Goodyear Margin of Safety...the surer blow-out protection of Goodyear's patented Super-twist Cord in every ply!

Trolley Company Is Named In Two Suits

LISBON, May 27.—The Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction Co. was named defendant in two damage suits filed Wednesday, totaling $55,200.

Both petitions were the result of a collision between an interurban street car and an automobile on February 15, 1937. The accident, occurring in East Liverpool, claimed the life of Robert Chester Tapp and resulted in serious injuries for William Stone, East Liverpool.

Grace Merle Tapp, as administratrix of Robert Tapp's estate, asks $30,000 for the death of her husband and an additional $200 to reimburse her for damages to the car Mr. Tapp was driving when the accident occurred. Stone, a passenger in the machine, claims $25,000 damages for injuries received in the collision.

Pension Asked For Confederate 'Youth'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 27.—The Florida legislature today weighed a proposal to grant a full Confederate pension of $40 a month to Drawin Branch Givens, of Tampa, who was only nine years old when the Civil war was ended.

The Hillsborough county (Tampa) delegation offered the bill yesterday, explaining young Givens ran six miles in 1865 to save a detachment of Confederate troops of the approach of a larger force of Union soldiers.

Although mail will be received and dispatched on regular holiday schedule next Monday, Memorial day, the postoffice windows will be closed and regular route deliveries will be suspended for the holiday. Postmaster A. E. Beardmore said today.

Trucker Is Fined

Edward Gauthier, of Akron, arrested Wednesday morning by State Patrolman R. M. Perry on West State st., on a charge of driving an overlength truck, pleaded guilty before Mayor George Harroff later and was fined $25 and costs.

Camera Club To Meet

The Quaker City Camera club will meet tonight in the Memorial building when three members, Dr. L. A. Cobbs, Clifford Cessna and James Gregg will discuss various phases of photography.

Speaks At Alliance

Speaking on the subject, "Softies," S. N. Van Blaricom of the Franklin road, told Rotary club members at Alliance Wednesday of his boyhood days in Minnesota.

Building Permit

F. F. Wells obtained a building permit from the city today for a $200 repair to his home at 492 Jennings ave.

Recent Birth

Mr. and Mrs. William Falk of 451 East Sixth st., are the parents of a son born last night in the Salem City hospital.

They Have Titles

GOLCONDA, Ill., May 27.—Titles are not bestowed upon citizens of the United States, but Sir Walter Scott, who lives here, is a citizen, and Lady Ruth Marks is a member of the Eldorado Township High school graduating class. "Sir" and "Lady" are given names.

Think of an electric refrigerator that uses no current at all more than 80% of the time! That builds up enough cold in just a few minutes to last almost an hour! Here's real full-powered refrigeration... and operating economy, too. It's the new Kitchen-proved Westinghouse—Kitchen-proved under actual home conditions the world over.

Reports from 89 HOME Proving Kitchens in a test early in 1937 show that running time of the mechanism averaged only 13%—much less than two hours out of twelve. Current consumption also was remarkably low—averaging only 2/3 kwh. per day, only 20 kilowatt hours per month.

A remarkable record!... And a remarkable refrigerator, too! Come in and see the new Kitchen-proved Westinghouse!

.. and here's more proof!

U. S. Public Works Administration buys 16,697 Westinghouse Refrigerators... For lowest 10-year cost they came to...

Salem Golf Club Members Ready For Opening Of Summer Tournament Schedule

Flag Tournament Memorial Day To Start Golfers Off On Series Of Links Events

Salem Golf Club Contest Committee Lists Schedule of 10 Tournaments for Latter Part of May, June and July; One New Event

Members of the Salem Golf club were ready today to swing into a full schedule of summer links' contests, opening with the annual Flag tournament over the nine-hole course Memorial day and closing with the finals of the President's cup play early in September.

The club's contest committee has arranged a program of 10 tournaments for the latter part of May and the months of June and July. Tournaments for the month of August and Labor day will be announced at a later date.

One new tournament makes its appearance in the club's 1937 schedule, the C. C. Gibson memorial trophy championship, which is in honor of the late Salem industrialist who was a charter member and always active in the club.

Qualifying rounds for the Gibson trophy tournament will begin Sunday and continue until June 6 when the lowest 32 players will be selected for match play under three-fourths handicap. The qualifying rounds will be 18-holes of medal play with full handicaps allowed all players.

Twelve or more prizes will be awarded to winners in the Flag tournament, which will be run off Memorial day. Full handicaps will be given golfers competing in this event.

Tournaments listed for June, in addition to the Gibson memorial trophy championship, include a blind bogey, June 13; 18-holes match play against par with full handicaps allowed, June 20, and a blind poker event, June 27.

Opening play in the President's cup tournament will get under way July 25 following three tournaments earlier in the same month. Golfers will qualify for the cup event from Sunday, July 25 to Saturday, July 31, under 18-holes of medal play with full handicaps.

In July, prior to the President's cup qualifier, there will be a novelty tournament, Sunday, July 4; 18-hole medal play competition, Monday, July 5; a blind bogey tournament, Sunday, July 11, and men's foursome matches, Sunday, July 18.

All tournaments are subject to change by the committee. The complete schedule for May, June and July follows:

Monday, May 31 — Flag tournament; full handicap.

Sunday, May 30 to Sunday, June 6 — Qualifying rounds for C. C. Gibson Memorial trophy; 18-holes medal play; full handicap; lowest 32 qualify; first match on or before June 13; second match on or before June 20; third match on or before June 27; fourth match on or before July 4; finals over 36-holes on or before July 11.

Sunday, June 13 — Blind bogey tournament.

Sunday, June 20 — Eighteen-holes match play against par; full handicap.

Sunday, June 27 — Blind poker tournament.

Sunday, July 4 — Novelty tournament.

Monday, July 5 — Eighteen-holes medal play; full handicap.

Sunday, July 11 — Blind bogey tournament.

Sunday, July 18 — Men's foursome; choose own partner; half combined handicap.

Sunday, July 25 to Saturday, July 31 — Qualifying rounds for President's tournament; 18-holes medal play; full handicap; lowest 32 players qualify; match play under three-fourths handicap; first match on or before Aug. 8; second match on or before Aug. 15; third match on or before Aug. 22; fourth match on or before Aug. 29; finals over 36-holes on or before Sept. 5.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, May 27. — George Coffman, Detroit Tiger rookie who made his major league debut by trimming Lefty Grove the other day and then was knocked out by the Yankees yesterday, is named George Richard, his brother, who tosses for the Giants, is named Richard George. Inside story is that Van Mungo's eye was bashed by a telephone and not Jimmy Bucher's fist. Remarkable how this hotel furniture has a habit of popping up and tagging a guy. Attention scouts: Randy Hefflin, 18-year-old right hander who has just pitched Fredericksburg (Va.) High to its first state title, struck out 95 batters in 52 innings, yielded only 18 hits and two earned runs. They say he would have done better, but none of the catchers could hold him down.

Kidney stew is Jimmy Brad-dock's favorite dish as he trains for Joe Louis. The Bomber sticks to fried chicken. Everybody is pulling hard for Mickey Cochrane. When he was hit on the head by Bump Hadley's fast one, the lick could be heard all over the Yankee stadium. Mickey has had more than his share of tough luck, all right. Just a few minutes before the accident some of the Tigers were discussing how narrowly Cochrane escaped being beamed in Washington last week.

Fresh reports from Wisconsin's spring football camp are that you can watch out for those Badgers. Major league score-keepers and printers can get ready for trouble. The name is "Jellicoe" and he's due to graduate to the Cincinnati Reds from Durham in the Piedmont league where he's now sparkling behind the platter.

NEW YORK, May 27. — This is baseball for you: Just a few days ago Spencer Abbott was the toast of the Seattle luncheon clubs for bringing his Indians home from the road in first place. Today he is looking for a job. He was fired because the Seattle owners said the players couldn't stand his riding. Just too bad. Suppose they had been working for the late John McGraw. Joe Devine of the Yankees, Ira Thomas of the Athletics and Jack Doyle of the Cubs are hot on the trail of Mike Petroskey, the Georgetown university pitcher. Michigan's track team may turn out to be one of the greatest in Big Ten history.

Are the Wimbledon brass hats denying Fred Perry free seats to the stands for the championship matches? Henry Clay Poe, pro at the Hillandale Country club at Durham, N. C., got the thrill of his life the other day when his youngster, Henry Clay, Jr., shot the course in 61—just 10 under par. All the kid did was collect 11 birdies and six pars on his amazing 18-hole round.

Bob Zuppke, Illinois football coach, who paints on the side, has 21 of his creations on exhibition in Chicago this week. Sam Francis, the Nebraska football great, who made the A. P. (official) All America last year, counts on his brother, Mike, six feet three and weighing 215, to carry on at Nebraska. Mike is a fullback. They say Mrs. Dizzy Dean sits right in the poker games with her hubby and the rest of the Cardinals. Back in 1904, Bill Dinneen, American league umpire, pitched 37 complete games for the Boston Red Sox and still holds the record for going through 337 innings without being relieved. Out in Chicago last week, the Dodgers had men on first and third with two out. "I'll bet you a case of beer we score," yelled Burleigh Grimes to Gabby Hartnett. "You're on." Gabby shouted back. A minute later the runners on first and third undertook a double steal. Hartnett's bullet-like throw to Jurgas was returned just as promptly and the runner was out at the plate. Looks like the next round's on Burleigh.

SNYDER CRACKS TRIAL RECORDS FOR AUTO RACE

Average of 125 Miles an Hour Sets New Speedway Track Mark

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27 — Joe Thorne, the 22-year-old millionaire sportsman, had the distinction today of owning the fastest and the slowest speedsters to qualify so far for the 500-mile race here Monday.

Thorne has entered six mounts in the speedway competition, and five already have qualified.

Jimmie Snyder of Chicago, one-time milkman, blazed his way to racing glory yesterday in a Thorne creation by averaging 125.287 miles an hour, a new record, for the 25 qualification miles.

Horne, who has speedboats and airplanes galore in his stable, appeared happier over Snyder's showing than over qualifying himself later at 115.602 miles an hour. Thorne's average was the slowest recorded in speedway tests this year, and the chances were that he might not get to start. The fastest 33 cars to qualify are permitted to participate.

Additional qualifications were on tap for this afternoon, and the tests will wind up Saturday. The track will get a final scrub-down Sunday, and the competition will begin at 10 a. m. Monday.

Railbirds believed today an average of 117 miles an hour or better would be necessary for eligibility. Twenty-eight mounts already have passed the tests, and there are almost a dozen drivers who will try to win the remaining five spots. Five drivers have failed to reach 117 miles an hour in their qualification sprints. Including Thorne, they are: Ronney Householder of Los Angeles, 116.464; Deacon Litz of Dubois, Pa., 116.372; Floyd Roberts of Vannuys, Calif., 116.996, and Lou Tomei of Portland, Ore., 116.437. Roberts qualified a Thorne car.

RIZZO IS AFTER HITTING RECORD

Columbus Outfielder Has Hit Safely In 37 Games In Row

CHICAGO, May 27.—It's about time to start taking seriously Johnny Rizzo's campaign to set a new American association consecutive game hitting record.

The young Columbus outfielder slammed out two hits, a triple and a single last night to increase his straight game string to 37, only seven short of Eddie Marshall's league mark—and did it with Marshall, playing shortstop for the Kansas City Blues, looking on.

Rizzo's clouts helped the Red Birds to a 4 to 3 victory over the Blues in 10 innings.

Milwaukee's Brewers continued to skid, dropping their fifth straight game, 7 to 6, to Toledo. Roy Colborne's homer off George Blac-holder in the ninth with a man on, provided the winning runs.

Buck Marrow held St. Paul to five hits as Louisville defeated St. Paul, 8 to 2, for its fifth straight victory. Indianapolis thumped Walter Tauscher and Charley Wagner for 18 hits, three each by Oskarhardt and Dan Taylor, to nip Minneapolis, 11 to 10.

Jim Foulis, Descendent Of Scots, Sticks With Big Name Players In Match Play Of P.G.A. Tournament

PITTSBURGH, May 27.—Fifteen "name" players and silent Jim Foulis were still firing in the Professional Golfer's championship today.

But Jim, least known of the survivors of "Black Wednesday" two 18-hole rounds, was the only one who could trace his ancestry back to the very cradle of golf.

Jim's father and grandpappy learned to left mashie-niblick shots while working in Tom Morris' pro shop at old St. Andrews. And so did his uncle, Jimmie, who came over from Scotland on a sailing ship away back in '83, and won the U. S. National open championship in 1896.

Denny Shute's father and Harry Cooper's father began their golf in England and Jimmy Thomson's dad picked up the finer points in Scotland, too. All are professionals now.

A slight gangling chap of 33, who has a stiff arm low stroking putting style, Foulis doesn't get around a lot. This is the funnestest the Chicagoan has ever gone in the PGA tournaments.

Not one golf fan in ten who follows the tournament results could remember hearing of Foulis, but everyone else in the field now is well known. Today Jim ran into Cooper.

MRS. WEIL SETS NEW GOLF MARK

GRANVILLE, May 27.—Mrs. Burt Weil of Cincinnati served notice today on Ohio women golfers that she would be a favorite to continue her supremacy in the state tournament in Columbus July 12 to 17.

Three-time state champion, Mrs. Weil shot a course record 77 here yesterday in the Ohio Women's Golf association annual handicap tournament, but placed fifth because she was playing without handicap and had an 85 Tuesday.

Tourney winner was Miss Janet Shock of Dayton, whose two handicap and rounds of 79 and 86 gave a net of 161. Her 79 was a course record for Mrs. Weil broke it.

INJURED TIGER PILOT WONDERS OVER HIS TEAM

Body Tired, But Mickey Cochrane's Mind Still Works

NEW YORK, May 27.—Attend-ants at St. Elizabeth's hospital said today that the condition of Mickey Cochrane, manager of the Detroit Tigers, was "unchanged," earlier the three doctors attending him had said he was "slightly improved."

The hospital attendants said that the official bulletin on Cochrane's condition had been slightly delayed. Cochrane's body is tired and his skull is broken, but the mind that directed the Detroit Tigers to two American league pennants and a world championship still is with his team.

Last night, just after three doctors had ended a consultation and bulletined Cochrane's condition as "slightly improved," Mrs. Cochrane entered the room.

Someone had told Mickey the Tigers had lost to the Yankees. "We lost today," he whispered. She nodded.

"Very badly?" he asked. His wife told him no and he seemed relieved. Actually the Tigers were beaten by the Yankees, 7-0. Doctors said his team's defeat had no ill effect.

The bulletin said "signs of a cerebral concussion have diminished. The possibility of infection and secondary meningitis is still present."

A doctor expressed the belief the crisis would be reached.

American League Appears Destined To Repeat Last Year's One-Sided Action

Yanks Pull Out In Front as Big Bats of Murderer's Row Begin to Click; Rest of Circuit Will Probably Have to Call Out Guard to Stop Champs

It seems the American league was only fooling after all. For a while there, the junior circuit looked as though it was going to steal the National league's stuff and put on a race as close as one and two.

But the untimely and unfortunate accident to Mickey Cochrane, and the big stick as now wielded by the New York Yankees' Murderer's Row make it appear that things are pointing toward somewhat of a repetition of last summer's waltz for Gehrig and company.

Certainly Detroit's pennant possibilities, as good as any team's a week ago, have come close to being washed up since Cochrane stopped that accidental bean ball of Bump Hadley's two days ago.

And now, with the Yankees definitely over their worst slump in two years, and widening their American league daily in recent days, the rest of the circuit probably will have to call out the national guard to stop the swat squad from repeating the slaughter.

Just as suddenly as they landed in their slump at the start of the season, the Yanks have snapped out of it in the past week. They now boast a winning streak of six which they stretched to that size yesterday in blanking the Cochrane-less Tigers 7-0.

Lefty Gomez was the lad who applied the whitewash brush yesterday, as George Selkirk socked his eighth homer. The victory boosted the Yanks' American league lead to three full games, and dropped the Tigers to fourth place.

Cleveland's Indians rallied with a four-run spree in the ninth to top the mystifying Philadelphia Athletics 8-6, a victory which shot the tribe from fourth to second and lowered the A's to third. Featuring the battle were pinch hitters by Bruce Campbell and Billy Sullivan.

On a western rampage, New York's Giants ganged up on Al Hollingsworth in the first five innings to beat the Reds 6-3 and pull up to a game and a half off the National league pace set by the Pittsburgh Pirates, whose tilt with the Dodgers was rained out. The Cardinals held out third place with a 6-4 win over the Boston Bees on the strength of Johnny Mize's three-run homer in the ninth.

Lefty Lamaster, the Phillies' pitching find, fanned ten and handcuffed the Chicago Cubs with three hits for a 6-1 win, his fourth of the year.

The Chicago White Sox rallied for three runs in the ninth and nosed out the Senators 6-5. The Boston Red Sox finished on top 11-9 in a knock-down, drag-out brawl with the Browns.

Baseball Chatter Picked Up While Players Relax

NEW YORK, May 25—Heard in the dugout, locker room and hotel lobby when the ball players are relaxing:

Gabby Hartnett, Cubs' catcher, speaking: "There are four hitters I never like to see coming up there, I don't care what the score or inning is. They are Medwick, Vaughan, Paul Waner and Ott. Medwick can hit any kind of a ball. I've never found his weakness if he has one. Vaughan and Paul Waner I'd rank as the two best left-handed hitters in our league. Mel Ott can ruin you at the Polo Grounds. And we have a hitter on the Cubs I'd say ranks up there with any of them. That's Billy Herman."

Pepper Martin, Cardinals' outfielder, speaking: "There's one thing they won't tolerate on our club. That's a 'skull.' If you pull one Frisch is likely to ride you right out of the park and the other boys give you a pretty good going over, too. But Frisch never says anything when you make an error if you're trying. If you keep hustling he'll keep patting you on the back, but he won't put up with a man who makes dumb plays."

Al Todd, Pittsburgh catcher, speaking: "Funny thing, you have one fight and you get a reputation as a tough guy. I've had only two fights in my whole life. One of them was with Dizzy Dean in the Texas League. I whipped him and got more publicity out of it than I did out of anything I had done in baseball up to that time. Then I had a run-in with Grissom (Cincinnati pitcher) and every place I go they say: 'This is the fellow who whipped Grissom.' I'm not tough and I very seldom have any trouble with anybody. But, of course, if somebody comes looking for trouble, then that's a different matter."

Chuck Dressen, Cincinnati Reds' manager, speaking: "No wonder Terry wouldn't speak to me. I wondered what was the matter. So he thinks I said Carl Hubbell was his meat ticket. I never said that. It was Burleigh Grimes and I have a clipping to prove it. But if Terry doesn't want to speak to me that's okay."

within the next 24 hours. If the Detroit manager, who was beamed by a pitch thrown by Bump Hadley of the Yankees, Tuesday, can hold his own in that time, his chances are much greater, physicians said.

Messages from fans and athletes in all parts of the country bidding him to keep up the fight came to Mickey's bed at the hospital.

Some hope was held that the greatest catcher of his time would be able to play in the future. Cy Perkins, one of Mickey's best friends, is helping Del Baker run the Tigers. He's not much of a help, for he haunts the hospital, grief-stricken at his friend's injury.

CHAPTER XXVI

"It's midnight," Hester said, "and no sign of the Rajah's barge. She was due back here before dark. It would have been a lot better if you had done as I advised and asked Mr. Crewe to send us to Nassau in the first place."

"It surely would," Sandy agreed. "I don't know what this is all about, but I agree with you completely Mrs. Vinckers."

Isobel gave her low laugh. "This is good, Sandy. The crossword puzzle is working out. It's quite up to the standard of futility of this poor groping quartet of incompetents. They're quite wonderful. Flashes of false inspiration, gleams of animal cunning, dashes of wit and a marked talent for acting, all wallowing in a sort of hopeless bog of indecision . . . like a fever dream."

Sandy looked at her helplessly. "Explain it, please. My poor brain is fogged too . . . like a camera film improperly sealed for the tropics. What, in the name of mud, is it all about? Why does Vinckers try to hold me up, Jarvis frisk me for the gun I haven't got, then Hester and Flavia come down and ask will I kindly have them ferried over to Nassau? It's all getting me barmy."

"It's like this, old dear," Isobel said. "Our cruiser was expected back this evening, as Hester says. They had planned to leave by her immediately. But Vinckers thought that you and I were apt to interfere. So Vinckers had the bright idea to disarm you first, and then if you made any objections, to their leaving, to lock us both up somewhere, in the storehouse probably. But now as it's getting late and no sign of the boat, Hester decided to carry out what she advised and ask you to send them across."

Sandy let out his breath. "Oh, so that's it. Well I'll be hanged." Isobel laughed again, but it was a sort of pitying laugh. "You had all better go to bed, and tomorrow we shall decide what's best to be done. I don't know who and what you really are, but one thing is certain and that is that you are very poor at it."

"As actors," Sandy said, "you're the sugar-cured hams, while as the high-rolling upper-underworld crooks that I was inclined to think you for awhile, you are a dismal flop."

Hester gave a little laugh that was half a sob. "Ma foh . . . but I believe you."

Vinckers said sullenly. "Well, it may be true at that. It's easy enough for you to make the de-bonair gesture, Crewe, with your yacht within hail and after you've framed me with your crowd aboard. All the same, I'm out to finish what I started, incompetent though I may be. So you just get up onto your feet and right about face and march through the house and where I tell you."

He raised his rifle and covered Sandy. "Isobel, you amble along with him if you value his health."

There was a lurid note in Vinckers' voice that was plainly no affection. The man's nerves were evidently stretched to their highest tension. Also in such a nature rage may be of the cumulative sort, so that as it had slowly risen under Isobel's scornful exposition of them, all it needed to bring it to the point of some desperate act was Sandy's final withering contempt.

At last, Sandy now perceived, Vinckers had become really dangerous. His features were not clearly visible through the mist, but there was a quality in the thick-labored speech that told of fury checking it. Here was none of the explosive temper of the Latin but the dogged stupid desperation of the Teuton whose brain action is turgid with blood, blinded to consequences by a sort of hatred at the bursting point.

Isobel realized their error even quicker than did Sandy. Her swift glance from Hester's to Flavia's face told that these two women who knew Vinckers best, were terrified. Even Jarvis had straightened suddenly from his slump. He was rigid, his lean body stiffly erect, like that of a cobra. It was as if all three of them were held tensely, listening for the crack of the rifle, before Sandy had time to agree the order given him by Vinckers.

Isobel rose swiftly and before Vinckers seemed to realize her intention she stepped between him and Sandy, still sitting. "Think twice, Vinckers," she said softly. Placed as he was, Vinckers could not thrust her aside. Jarvis made no effort to do so. Sandy sprang to his feet.

"Vinckers, you fool . . . what's this going to get you?" "Look out, Isobel!"

But Isobel crowded against the muzzle of the rifle. "He is going to do what you say, Steady, Vinck. Don't lose your head."

"Time for you to talk," Vinckers muttered. "Let him start, then." Hester had found her voice. "Oh, what's the hurry?" she said in her slow drawl. "Time enough when the boat is sighted . . . if ever it is. Don't be a fool, Vinck."

The weight of opposition seemed to have its effect. Vinckers, breathing heavily, lowered the rifle and resting it against the edge of the terrace gripped the rounded support. His body seemed to sag down a little, so that his face peered between the columns in a manner curiously suggestive of an ape in a cage.

You had better see Uncle before you decide on anything," Isobel said. "He's not so very far away. I don't know what your hold on him may be, but it ought to be as much use to you as ever."

Jarvis suddenly came to life. "That's played out," he said, and went on in a crackling voice in a singular contrast to the one he previously affected. "We can't get the Rajah on that fuse he got into out in Siam before the war. He could square himself out there for less than half we're asking, and what's more, I'll bet he has. That's what he went out there for this last trip."

"What did he do?" Isobel asked, softly. Jarvis laughed cacklingly. "Lor, what didn't he? There and all over the shop. Some life he's had, the old Rajah. Until the war his stuff was Asia's chronic complaint. He was like Pandora's box of troubles with the lid off, or maybe more like smoke in the hold with the ship off soundings and the old man not daring to lift a hatch to lead in a hose. For years and years any one of his least jobs would make the modern Master Mind, as the ink-slingers call 'em, look like a hobo swiping pies set out to cool."

"What sort of jobs?" Isobel murmured. Jarvis did not seem to have heard her. "The Grand old bloke has softened up. Religion fastens on his kind like ivy on a wall when it starts to crumble . . . or mistletoe on the branches of a sick tree. It's your genius gets like that . . . if he lives too long. He had a lot else, too. He had a way with him, the Rajah. Like a satrap. Not one of his field workers was ever known to wobble on him. He knew who could be trusted and how far, and he took care of his crowd, no matter what happened. The Big Timers knew there were no double crossers in the Rajah's ledger. Rum, I call it, to see a man like that go punk, like an old pirate ship. Too bad . . ."

Hester spoke in her soft, accented voice. "It's only that he has a different slant on things. Religion isn't slant . . . whatever kind he's unearthed."

"Maybe he invented it," Jarvis said. "That would be like him, too. What's the odds? It suits him now to be grand and kind . . . just as he used to be grand and terrible the grandest old pirate that ever scuttled a junk with all aboard."

"The war did something to him," Hester said. She and Jarvis seemed suddenly to have burst into talk. Isobel guessed this to be for the distraction of Vinckers who still clung half-standing, half-sagging to the balcony posts, peering through in a curious animal way.

"Right-o," Jarvis agreed. "Before that you'd as soon have thought of tying a tin can on the tail of a royal Bengal tiger as of tying a blackmail on the Rajah."

"And now he's tremendously respectable," Hester said, smiling. "Like Sir Henry Morgan when they made him Governor of Jamaica."

There was a pause. Vinckers seemed to slide still lower, then to recover himself with a sort of lurch, and to straighten up. "The Rajah," he said in his normal voice, "has gone to pot. Punk softened, and nothing left but a shell of bluff. He knows it, and that's why he did his bunk. Nothing to fear there any more."

Isobel blazed out fiercely. "You lie . . ."

Vinckers laughed. "Think so? He covering in a cave? He can't, even hold the blacks. Haven't they all walked out on him?"

He was interrupted by a scream from Flavia. She was staring through the wide opened doors. "Look . . . Oh, look. That glare . . . listen . . . you hear them? The Negroes! They are coming back to slaughter us!"

The long, two-storied building that suggested the residence of a hacienda of Moorish architectural features was two fronted, a main entrance on the side of the lagoon and another facing the park. The broad white coral dressed driveway round the bend of the driveway, its source still hidden by a grove of young citrus trees, oranges and grapefruit and cunghuats that were dense but low. Its origin was immediately revealed by the vanguard of a company of Negroes dressed in white, carrying torches of some resinous inflammable.

This head of what seemed a procession advanced in silence. There was an alarming quality about the lurid illumination as it brushed the tropical foliage and the smooth columns of the palm trunks with its incendiary tone. Sandy's first thought was that Flavia was right. That the natives under the urge of superstitious dread and their primitive natures inflamed by the pagan form of diabolic worship not so deeply planted under present day religious teachings, had returned in force to destroy the premises.

Helium in Spotlight Since Hindenburg Tragedy

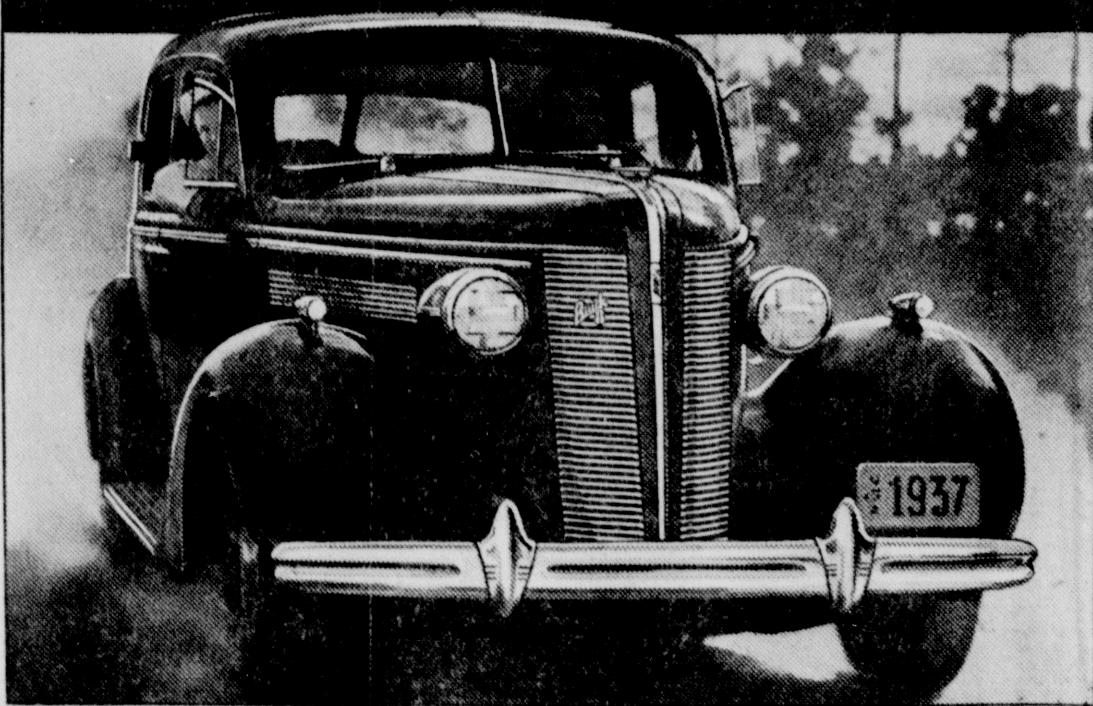

As a result of the tragic end of the German dirigible, Hindenburg, which went up in flames at Lakehurst, N. J., Commander Hugo Eckener has banned the use of hydrogen in all future commercial dirigibles and is now discussing, with a special commission appointed by President Roosevelt, means of obtaining helium from United States which has a virtual monopoly on the gas. Helium is neither inflammable nor explosive and has about 90 per cent of the lifting power of oxygen. The greatest known reserve of helium is located near Amarillo, Tex., where the government maintains a plant to produce the gas for military purposes. Another important reserve is located in Utah.

This had all the aspect of an incendiary band determined to purge the place by fire.
